

LexSciBowl 2017

Sponsorship Information

COMPETITION

LexSciBowl 2017 will bring together nearly 100 of the top science and math students in the region for its third annual competition, full of exhilarating speed, extensive knowledge, and cohesive collaboration. By sponsoring this event, you'll enable a unique middle school outreach opportunity and support one of the nation's most recognized High School National Science Bowl teams.

INSPIRATION

Our mission is to create a science and math competition accessible and fun for all students from all places. We believe that innovation depends on people who have a real, unshakable passion for science; this passion comes from having exciting and positive experiences that shape a student's dream of the future.

RECOGNITION

Sponsoring LexSciBowl means exposing your brand to some of New England's brightest middle school students and their families. You'll leave a lasting impression on these students and help inspire the next generation of intellectual pioneers.
